NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

FIFTY FIVE Central seniors were elected to the National Honor Society in 1935. These thirty-two girls and twenty three boys have received the highest honor that Central High school can confer upon any student. From the upper quartile of the senior class in scholastic ranking, these students are selected on the qualities of service, character, and leadership. A faculty committee, composed of the heads of the departments and sponsors of activities, makes the selections under the chairmanship of Principal J. G. Masters.

Membership in the National Honor society represents to the high school scholar what Phi Beta Kappa does to the college student; moreover, Central High school takes a special pride in this organization, since it was founded in 1921 at the suggestion of Principal Masters, who felt that students excelling in high school work and activities should be given recognition. Now a nation-wide honorary fraternity, it has over two thousand chapters throughout the United States. Including the fifty-five students elected this year, 628 seniors have been admitted to membership in the Central High chapter of the society in the fifteen years of its existence.

Principal E. L. McMillan of North High school, announced the names of Central's fifteen chapter group at an assembly May 7 in the auditorium. He has spoken to the senior students. Mr. McMillan urged them to take their position seriously and accept their responsibility of maintaining the high standards they had set for themselves. "By reading books, studying people, making worthwhile acquaintances, and holding to your ideals," he said, "you will gain the knowledge to figure out your own problems."

To these students Central High school is indebted. Although well represented in distinguished faculty and alumni, the school is known primarily by the caliber of its students from year to year. The outstanding record of these pupils is the basis for Central's continued high scholastic ranking.

JUNIOR HONOR SOCIETY

THE GOAL to which all underclassmen aspire! The Junior Honor society exists for three main purposes: recognition of individuality and high achievement in both scholarship and school activities, encouragement of leadership, and development of character. The institution was founded through the efforts of Principal J. G. Masters in 1923 and is sponsored by a committee of fourteen faculty members.

Membership in Junior Honor society is based on scholarship and character; in addition, sophomore and junior members must have displayed qualities of leadership, service, and loyalty to the school. Those elected must have two full credit A's and no grade below B, although those carrying five subjects are permitted one C.

Three chapters compose the organization: Epsilon for freshmen, Delta for sophomores, Gamma for juniors. This year, ten per cent of each class was elected to membership by the general council under the chairmanship of Miss Tillie Anderberry, English teacher. Graduates who have belonged to the Junior Honor society are considered honorary members. At the end of one year, however, active membership ceases.

Announcement of the election was made in the Central High school auditorium on May 2 with Assistant Principal Fred Hill in charge. J. G. Schmidt, physics teacher, announced the Gamma chapter; Miss Amanda Anderson, mathematics instructor, the Delta chapter, and R. B. Bedell, mathematics instructor, the Epsilon chapter.

PUBLICATIONS

THE CENTRAL HIGH REGISTER, a weekly publication, has since its foundation in 1874, won the highest possible honors in recognition of its journalistic merit. The paper is published by the journalism department under the direction of Mrs. Anne Lane Savidge, journalism instructor. All American honor rating, the highest award conferred by the National Scholastic Press association, and a similar award given by the Columbia Scholastic Press association have been received for the past five years.

Membership in Quill and Scroll, international honor society for high school journalists, was awarded to thirty-one students this year. The purpose of the organization is to raise the standards of journalism through the development of a high code of ethics in students. To become a member of this organization, one must have the following qualities: outstanding work in journalism, ranking in the upper third of the class, recommendation by the journalism instructor, and approval of the recommendation by Edward Nell, executive secretary. Since the society was founded, in 1926, by a group of teachers at the University of Iowa, it has grown to include six hundred active chapters in the United States with over fifteen thousand members. An official publication, "Quill and Scroll," which is edited quarterly, is received by all members of this society.

The sixth annual Loquax, newspaper of the Latin department, was published again this year as a part of the Register, with its chief editors selected from members of the Register staff. Other members of the staff were chosen by Mrs. Bernice Engle and Mrs. Bessie Rathbun, Latin instructors, from the Latin department.

The O-Book, annual publication of the senior class, was published by a staff composed of members of the Register department, and by editors appointed from the senior class.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

THE SENIOR GLEE CLUBS make up a most important part of the music department, for it is from these organizations that Mrs. Carol Marhoff Pitts selects students for membership in the a cappella choir. There are five junior glee clubs which are open to any student, and are under the direction of Mrs. Elsie Howe Swanson. Members pass from junior glee to senior glee clubs for more advanced training under Mrs. Pitts; then, if they have developed sufficient musical ability, they are promoted to the choir. Voice classes are held every day in which students are given vocal training for group and solo work; music appreciation and music history are taught by Mrs. Irene Haskins Jensen. All courses in the department are elective.

Only the choir participated in the annual opera, which was Victor Herbert's "Sweethearts." Parts for the opera are determined by individual tryouts, and leads were played by Mary Jane France, Kermit Hansen, Evelyn Dansky, Bryce Bednar, Rebecca Morse, Joe Edwards, Raymond Wendell, Max Barnett, and Donald Reusser.

The music students presented, in addition to the opera, the Spring Festival, the annual concert at the First Presbyterian church, two broadcasts over station KOIL, and several programs in the high school auditorium. The choir's concert at Minneapolis was broadcast by the National Broadcasting system. Five students, and the Madrigal group, consisting of eight voices, were entered in the vocal division of the state contest, and received excellent and superior ratings. Mrs. Pitts, who attended the North Central Music Educators' conference at Indianapolis, Indiana, March 17-22, was elected president of that organization for the next two years. At this conference, Kermit Hansen and Mary Jane France received first places for the final competition this coming year.

To add to the success of the season, a group of women, under the direction of Miss Chloe Stockard, household arts instructor, and sponsored by the FERA, made new robes and collars for every member of the choir. The year 1934-35 has been the most brilliant year that the music department has ever experienced.

FOOTBALL CHAMPIONS

FOR THE FIRST TIME in fifteen years, a Central football team vanquished a Tech grid squad, October 27, 1934, 12 to 0. The Eagles went on to win the Intercity league football championship and to tie with Lincoln and Sioux City Central for first in the Missouri Valley league.

The 1934 football season saw the addition of Charles Justice, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, to the coaching staff as head coach, assistant to F. Y. Knapple. Central was noted for its strong line this season.

Opening the season with Fremont, the Purple-clad gridgers swept through an eight game schedule with six wins and two losses. This was Central's first city championship since 1919. Following is the record:

Central—6.....Fremont—0	Central—6.....St. Joseph—14
Central—0.....Lincoln—18	Central—6.....North—0
Central—7.....A. Lincoln—0	Central—13.....Benson—0
Central—12.....Technical—0	Central—12.....South—0

Central was represented by many fine performers on the gridiron, including Ronnie McCaffin, guard; Paul Hershman, tackle and captain of the football squad, and Bob Robertson, fullback, all of whom were named all city players. Robertson was also given all state honors.

Probably the most important happening of the 1934 season was the breaking of the jinx which Maroon football teams held over Central. Since 1921, Tech has won every contest save one, which ended in a draw.

In winning the inter-city title, Central was unbeaten, untied, and unscored upon. The Purple squad was remarkable for its fine team play and its high degree of perfection in defensive tactics.

GIRLS' SPORTS

FOR THOSE GIRLS who prefer sports to regular gym work, Mrs. Glee Meier, girls' athletics instructor, organized girls' sports classes in 1931. In these classes, the girls receive coaching in the techniques and rules of the seasonal and individual sports. This year one hundred fifty girls, who are enrolled in the gym classes, took part in the golf, ping-pong, and archery exhibitions in the Central District Physical Education convention, which was held during the latter part of March at the Ak-Sar-Ben coliseum.

Rifle, which was organized in 1933, has grown in popularity with the girls this past year. Lois Thomas was the first Central girl to receive the "expert" award, which is attained by passing the pro-marksman and sharpshooter tests. The rifle team, which is coached by Mrs. Meier and Sergeant S. B. Moore, is a branch of the National Rifle association — Junior corps.

The volleyball tournament this year was one of the most exciting in several years. Lorna Borman's junior senior team captured the pennant by winning all but one game, and the three remaining competitors tied for second place. The hockey and basketball tournaments were equally exciting: Bertha Dailey's squad won the hockey race, and Joan Broad's basketball sextet was the undefeated team in the cage tournament.

The popularity of the swimming classes, which are held at the Jewish Community Center pool, was proved by the enrollment of eighty girls, the largest number ever recorded. Maxine Anderson, Barbara Knapp, Lorna Borman, Elaine Harrington, Sara Gemma, Jean Beber, Margre Henningson, and Betty Jurt received their Senior Life Saving awards.

SPRING FROLIC

"MISS CENTRAL" was formally presented for the first time in the history of Central High school at an all girls' masquerade party, held in the school gymnasium on Saturday night, April 30. Betty Nolan, outstanding athlete, was awarded this honor in a most brilliant ceremony, and the party, carefully planned by Mrs. Irene Haskins Jensen and members of Student Control, was attended by nearly one thousand girls.

From a group of eighteen girls nominated at an earlier meeting, nine who received the most votes in a primary election became candidates. A great deal of campaigning was held and posters, cards, and circulars were distributed.

The time for the coronation came. At the dimming of the lights the orchestra began to play and the queen's party entered the hall. The committee chairmen led the march and were followed by the candidates and nominees for "Miss Central." At the end of this beautiful procession, Betty Nolan entered in the lovely purple coronation robe that many an Ak-Sar-Ben queen has worn. Amid the applause of the audience, she walked down the aisle to the throne, where the crown was placed upon her head by Miss Jessie Towne, dean of girls.

A dance orchestra provided music, and dozens of door prizes and awards for the cleverest, prettiest, and most original costumes were given. The party was held in order that the girls, especially freshmen, could become better acquainted with one another, and was such a success that there is no doubt but that it will be repeated in the years to come.

SENIOR DAY

A NOVEL PLAN, which may become a Central High school tradition, was inaugurated this year when the class of 1935 held the first official senior day on April 12, the last day before spring vacation. In the morning, those seniors who had filed applications which had been accepted taught classes under the direction of the teachers.

At noon, the seniors lunched together in the north wing of the cafeteria, afterwards going to Miller park, where golf and tennis tournaments were held, and where the Birchwood club house was turned over to the class for the rest of the day. Ping pong, billiard, and bridge tournaments were held in the club house.

Supper was provided at the Birchwood by the Central High cafeteria, and the climax of the day was a dance in the evening, when a special senior day newspaper was read aloud to the assembled class in the Birchwood dance hall.

This plan was adopted after two weeks of consideration by a specially appointed senior day committee and of class discussion of various other proposals. Miss Mary A. Parker, executive secretary of the class, was largely instrumental in making the event possible.

The entire plan was approved by the faculty, since it eliminated all unofficial fun during school by the seniors, and since it was felt that the seniors deserved some concession from routine during their last year. The senior class returned from its picnic and dance more closely united than ever before.
